Cotton Ginned in Texas

Austin, March 9.—The state department of agriculture has made public the report of the number of bales of cotton ginned for the season of 1908-9, which shows the total number to be 2,783,869, against 1,815,544 for the previous year. This number represents nine-tenths of the entire crop. It is expected the crop will reach 3,000,000, which, however, is below the government's figures.

Nearly Two Thousand Reports Due.

Austin, March 9.—The secretary of state has announced that there are nearly 2,000 corporations thus far that have failed to make report of amount of stock outstanding and also amount of undivided profits. Several letters addressed to corporations at Houston, Dallas and Galveston were returned as the corporations were addressed to the general delivery and uncalled for, this does not excuse these corporations, however.

DR. CHILDERS DEAD.

Pioneer Dallas Physician and Surgeon in the Confederate Army.

Dallas, March 9.—At his residence in this city Dr. J. V. Childers, a citizen of Dallas since the early 70s, departed this life Tuesday morning. Dr. Childers, who was seventy-seven years of age, retired some years ago from active practice. During the civil war he was connected with the medical department of the Confederacy and was considered one of its most skilled surgeons.

Why He Killed Himself.

Washington, March 9.—Heartbroken because his dream of having an intercontinental railroad open to the commerce of the fertile valleys of Central and South America had never materialized, Hinton Rowan Helper, former United States consul general at Buenos Ayres, committed suicide here. His wife and children live in Chicago.

Can Entertain Thirty Thousand.

Fort Worth, March 9.—The Texas Cattle Raisers' association announces it is prepared to take care and entertain 30,000 visitors during the cattlemen's convention and stock show, which opens next week.

T. C. Harry Passes Away.

Dallas, March 9.—T. C. Harry, a leading business man and long-time resident, succumbed to the effects of an appendicitis operation.

The Magnetized Hat.

Borrow an old top hat and place it on the table crown uppermost; make a few passes over it; lay your hand upon the crown. Then gradually raise the hat in the air and make it float about in various positions. This is done by taking an ordinary black pin bent in the shape of the letter C, which you secrete in your right hand. On receiving the hat, take it in your left hand and while walking to the table put your right hand inside quickly and push the pin up through the crown. Make a few passes over the hat. Lay your left hand on the hat and slip your finger in the hook and lift the hat from the table. You can make the hat float in the air as if magnetized. The pin can easily be withdrawn when giving the hat back.

Phosphorescent Flowers.

Many persons do not know that there are flowers and plants that give out a phosphorescent light in the dark. The nasturtium is one of them. The light of this flower is more noticeable after a day of strong sunlight. The marsh lily and the flaxinella also have the light. In the case of the flaxinella the phenomenon is due to a volatile oil that the plant secretes. It oozes out in warm weather, spreads itself in a thin layer over the flowers and forms a vapor that becomes luminous in the dark. It is said that there is a kind of fungus in the coal mines near Dresden that has the appearance of luminous festoons of shifting colors.

French Blind Man's Buff.

The players form a ring, hand in hand, and the blind man stands in the middle, holding a stick or cane. The players dance around him till he raps on the floor, when they all stand perfectly still and silent. Then he holds out the cane, and the one toward whom it points must grasp the end. The blind man then asks any three questions he pleases, all of which must be answered in a changed voice. The blind man must guess who is talking. If he is right the two change places, but if he is wrong the players dance about him again and the game goes on.

Dividend to Be Passed.

Hamburg, March 9.—The directors of the Hamburg-American Steamship company proposes to pass this year's dividend. A dividend of 6 per cent was paid last year.

OLIVER CHOSEN.

Pittsburg Man Succeeds Knox In United States Senate.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 9.—George T. Oliver of Pittsburg was named by the Republican caucus of the legislature as its choice for the seat in the United States senate that Hon. Philander C. Knox resigned to accept the position of secretary of state in the cabinet of President Taft.

Mr. Oliver is one of the leading citizens of Pittsburg and one of the most prominent Republicans in the Keystone state. The nomination is equivalent to an election, as both houses are overwhelmingly Republican.

MOTIONS OVERRULED.

Effect of Decision Expels Couple and Reinstates Waters-Pierce Company.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 9.—The motions by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Republic Oil Company of Ohio for a rehearing of ouster suit recently decided against them and for modification of judgment were overruled by the Missouri supreme court.

The effect of these decisions is to expel the Indiana and Ohio companies from Missouri and to restore to the Waters-Pierce Oil company 60 per cent of whose stock is held by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the right to do business within the state.

No formal opinion was read, Chief Justice Valliant simply announcing the gist of the court's decision. Justices Lamm and Woodson dissented.

The Standard Oil company's interests are expected to appeal and carry their case to the supreme court of the United States.

Two-Cent Fare Legislation Ends.

Topeka, Kan., March 9.—The senate adopted the report of the railroad committee, which recommended that the 2 cent fare bill be not passed. This ends 2 cent fare legislation in the Kansas legislature at this session.

Poorhouse Robbed.

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 9.—A large quantity of seed was stolen from the poorhouse.

Another Extension.

Muskogee, Okla., March 9.—Gov. Haskell and other prominent Oklahomans indicted in February by the federal grand jury for Muskogee alleged town lot frauds, were again granted an extension of time. They are to plead at Vinitain the federal court Monday next.

Textile Interests to Meet.

Atlanta, March 9.—The executive committee of the Georgia Textile association issued a call for a meeting of all textile interests of the south here on March 15. The purpose of the meeting will be to consider the tariff and other important questions relative to the textile industry.

Hudspeth Arrested.

New Orleans, March 9.—Henry S. Hudspeth, former president of the New Orleans Typographical union, was arrested here charged with fraudulently obtaining money from the union. He was a candidate for the presidency of the International Typographical union against James M. Lynch during the election last May.

Expires in Bathtub.

Georgetown, Tex., March 9.—James Carter, aged forty-three, a farmer, was found dead in a bathtub at a local hotel early Tuesday morning. He came from Nacogdoches to buy land. It is believed heart disease caused his death.

IN DISTRICT COURT.

Grand Jury Adjourned for the Term.
Returned Thirty Indictments.

In the district court yesterday divorces were granted in the following cases: Ira Crawford from Ernest Crawford; Henry Bryant from Annie Bryant.

The Grand jury returned three more misdemeanor indictments yesterday, making a total of thirty for the term—Twenty-seven felonies and three misdemeanors. Being through with their business they so reported to the court and were discharged for the term. Their written report follows:

Grand Jury Report.

State of Texas, County of Brazos. In the District Court of Brazos County, Texas, March Term, A. D. 1909, 9th day of March, 1909.

To the Hon. Judge of said Court:

Now comes the Grand Jury of said County and State and begs leave to make the following report to your honor:

1st.

We have been in session seven days and during that time we have diligently inquired into all violations of the law that have been brought to our notice and we are delighted to report to your honor that in so far as crime is concerned this county is in excellent shape. We find that our honorable County Attorney has evidently been wide awake and that he has kept up with the misdemeanor violators of the law in this County as our report will show. We also want to compliment the Sheriff's department and the various Constables over the County on the way in which they have been looking after the violators of the law.

We have visited the jail and examined the same carefully and find that it is in good sanitary condition; that the prisoners therein contained are being well cared for by our Sheriff.

We wish to thank the District Attorney and the County Attorney for the valuable assistance they have rendered us during our deliberations and investigations of the various matters that have come before us. We desire also to extend our thanks to the Sheriff and the different bailiffs that have so promptly executed the process for witnesses who were to come before us.

4th.

We recommend that your Honor appoint a committee to investigate the books of our County Officials and report on same.

5th.

As a result of our labors for the last seven days we beg leave to report that we have returned into this Honorable Court 27 felony cases and 3 misdemeanors and now that our labors are done we pray your honor to finally discharge us.

WHY NOT THE TROLLEY?

Rapid Transit Between Bryan and College Would Assure City's Future.

The Eagle once more urges the people of Bryan not to let the Bryan-College trolley sentiment die out. It is the greatest enterprise Bryan could possibly secure and it is nearer within the reach of the people than anything else that could be launched. Bryan is distinctly a college town and nothing should be overlooked that would add to, or in any way benefit our already great school system.

With our schools built up and fully developed, Bryan's future would be assured. Floods, boll weevils and other crop disasters would of course have their effect, but our schools would keep business good all the time and the old town would move right along on the road of progress.

It is patent to all that without some great uplift of this kind, our future growth and development will be necessarily slow. The Eagle is not among the pessimistic knockers who believe the town has seen its best days. We know that it is growing and improving every day and will continue to grow, but as stated above, its growth will be slow without some development, or some new enterprises to quicken and stimulate business along every line.

The trolley line would give us an impetus such as we never experienced before, and it is conservatively estimated that Bryan within five years would have a population of ten thousand people. This estimate is not the unmeasured thought of a dreamer, but level headed, conservative business men concur in this opinion, and they base their opinions upon what trolley lines have accomplished in other localities where established.

With this increase in population, think of the increase in all lines of retail business. Also with this increase in population there must of necessity spring up various other enterprises and lines of business to give employment to the people, thereby largely increasing the tin bucket brigade, that noble band who do more to build up and develop a town than any other factor, because their daily wage goes into the tills of the retail merchants, makes business good for them, and when business is good with them, prosperity will abound and everything will hum.

Build the trolley line and before you realize it the whole country between Bryan and College would be a perfect town. People would buy and build along the line to get advantage of the great educational advantages afforded. The educational system would be perfect. With our splendid public schools, Allen Academy, Texas Women's College, Villa Maria and the A. and M. College, we could give them anything they wanted, from the primary grades to the finished product in scientific and literary training.

We just must have it. The possibilities are too great to be neglected. It is too near within our grasp to be permitted to escape now. Let's all go to work for it, talk for it, create an interest in the matter and when the people are thoroughly and deeply interested it will come. Talk for the trolley.

THE WEATHER.

Special to Bryan Morning Eagle.
New Orleans, La., March 9.—Tonight fair, Wednesday fair; warmer.—Cline.

Weather Notes.

Galveston, March 9.—A storm of considerable energy is central this morning over the Rio Grande valley, with the lowest barometer, 29.44, at Del Rio. Storm warnings were displayed on Sunday for this disturbance on the west Gulf coast. Precipitation has occurred in northern Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Mississippi valley, and in districts immediately east of the latter valley. A "norther" is moving in over the Panhandle and Oklahoma, and there has been a sharp fall in temperature in the northwestern half of Texas. In the southwestern half of the State it is still abnormally warm. At time of report the weather was cloudy throughout the State, with temperature ranging from 24 degrees at Amarillo to 74 degrees at Brownsville.

GRAND MILLINERY DISPLAY.

The Store "On the Corner" the Center of Attraction all Day Tuesday.

Bryan ladies were down town early yesterday morning, for Eugene Edge had advertised the date of his annual Spring Millinery Opening, and previous seasons had given to them positive proof, that a real "feast" of all the prettiest and newest fads of fashion was in store for them there.

By ten o'clock the second floor of the big establishment was jammed and crammed, with those eager to have first choice—nor did the crowd diminish throughout the day.

The visitors found the Millinery department perfectly ready for their visit—everything bright and new, and an abundance of beautiful hats, from which to make selections. Miss Pilling, who so successfully managed this department last year is in charge again this season. She is just as enthusiastic as ever over her work, and has returned from her weeks of "stock buying" with all the newest and prettiest ideas and styles at her finger tips. Miss Wren will assist Miss Pilling, and Miss Mary Evans is also in this department.

The reporter was shown many beautiful hats and told the names of many of the new shapes and colors, but no description of a hat is accepted by a woman—she must see it herself, and so the Eagle refrains from specializing. But we do know that the hats are immense in size—even larger than they were this winter. The "Inverted flower pot" is the leading shape, and promises to be very popular. The "Shepherdess" is graceful and very Frenchy, and has an "air" much sought. The "Cabriolet" is very trying, but quite the latest thing out, and is much admired. Flowers in every conceivable color contribute much to this season, and with aglets and foliage compose the richest trimmings. The most prominent colors for this season are Lavender and Old Rose, with Amethyst, Petunia, Dutch Blue and the Mustard shades as close rivals.

The Opening will continue through today, and all will be welcome.

As a means of "saving the boys" nothing better has appeared than The Corn Growing Club, which is now attracting much attention. It is a safe prediction that no active member of that organization will ever go to the bad.

BRYAN, TEXAS, MARCH 10, 1909

WHEN CONGRESS MEETS.

When congress meets in extraordinary session on March 15, the first contest in the house will be over the rules. The 171 Democrats aided by the insurgent Republicans will make an effort to wrench from the speaker the despotic power he has heretofore exercised. The success or failure of the effort will depend on the number and fidelity of the insurgents.

The new president says he favors genuine tariff reform and we give him credit for sincerity, but it is certain that any real reduction will meet with strong opposition and a long and wearisome contest is expected, and what the outcome will be no man is wise enough to predict.

There is reason to expect, however, that congress will be in better humor than it has been for a long time. There is general rejoicing among Republican members as well as Democrats, over the passing of Roosevelt, and no president in the post-bellum period has been welcomed with such sincere good feeling as that which the new congress will extend to Mr. Taft. In contrast with Roosevelt's habitual brusqueness, amounting in many cases to downright rudeness, Mr. Taft's tactfulness appears pre-eminent, although it is inferior, perhaps, to that of McKinley.

While prophecies of a stormy special session are freely made by all who are in the best positions to diagnose the situation correctly, the fact is that nobody knows. Political prophecies are as often erroneous as weather prognostications.

When Texas gets to making her own brooms we may expect a clean sweep.

Everybody except the cartoonists likes the Taft smile better than the Roosevelt grin.

An altruist is one who seeks to do good to others without any thought of benefiting himself. Have you ever met one?

It is a good deal easier to create a dozen new offices with fat salaries attached than it is to abolish one that is useless.

El Paso claims to be growing more rapidly than any other city in the state and the census next year will probably show that this claim is not an idle boast.

Bellamy Storer, one of the earliest and most distinguished members of the American club is back in Washington, hand and glove with President Taft. This is a straw showing which way the wind blows.

Every farmer in the country tributary to Bryan is directly interested in building up the town because the larger the population the better will be his local market.

The mule will stand more abuse than any other animal except his daddy and then light in and kick to kingdom come somebody who never gave him a unkind word.

The Eagle has not said a word about moving the capital of the United States to Texas in order to always have good weather on inauguration day. This may be hard to believe but we can prove it.

However, much we condemn and deplore lynchings, it is plain that they will never stop until the horrible crime that provokes them ceases or some legal method of punishment, swift, sure and adequate, is provided.

Suppose each house of the legislature send a committee to Representative Byrne of Bastrop to find out whether there is anything else he would like to have done before they adjourn.

So surely as the Democratic leaders and newspapers opposed to Mr. Bryan continue to disparage him, so surely will he be the Democratic nominee in 1912. The Democratic masses love and trust him and will resent the effort to belittle him or put slights on him.

Mail and Breeze tells a story of a Kansas farmer who had been missing corn from his crib and having a suspicion of a certain party to make sure he drove nails into the ends of some ears and left them handy for the thief. Next day in a neighbor's hog pen he found a lot of bare cobs with nails in them.

Every business man in Bryan is interested directly in increasing the population and developing all the resources of the surrounding country to the greatest extent possible, because the more people the more purchasers for what he has to sell and the more prosperous the people are the more they will be able to purchase.

Men who have had experience are almost unanimous in advising young men who wish to enjoy quiet and happy lives to keep out of politics. There are thrills in public life, to be sure, but every one of them must be paid for with many bitter disappointments.

Few people realize that the beet sugar crop of this country now amounts to nearly a billion pounds, which is almost double the annual product of cane sugar. Successful experiments in growing the sugar beet have been made in several parts of Texas and it is probable that it will in a few years become a staple crop.

There is something for everybody to think about in this from a well known baseball manager: "The ball player who is worth anything never sees the ladies' handkerchiefs in the grand stand. When the pitcher is about to throw he is not looking at the newspaper man who is photographing him, but at the ball."

We once knew a man who planted an apple orchard and carefully cultivated it until it came into bearing, but the conditions of the climate and soil were so unfavorable that after yielding a few small crops of inferior fruit the trees died. The owner estimated that every one of the apples he harvested represented an expenditure of about $10.00 in money and labor, but he was wealthy enough to take his failure as a joke. Without intending it, perhaps, he taught his neighbors a lesson worth many times the cost of the experiment.

THE NEW PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE TOWARD THE SOUTH.

About one-fifth of the president's message is devoted to the South and the negro problem. There is nothing new in it and nothing especially interesting except this paragraph:

"But it may well admit of doubt whether, in the case of any race, an appointment of one of their number to a local office in a community in which the race feeling is so widespread and acute as to interfere with the ease and facility with which the local government business can be done by the appointee, is of sufficient benefit by way of encouragement to the race to outweigh the recurrence and increase of race feeling which such an appointment is likely to engender. Therefore, the executive, in recognizing the negro race by appointments must exercise a careful discretion not thereby to do it more harm than good. On the other hand we must be careful not to encourage the mere pretense of race feeling manufactured in the interest of individual political ambition."

We understand this as a promise not to appoint negroes to office in the South in any case where there is serious objection by the white people.

BRINKLEY HIT TERRIBLY.

Agonizing Scenes Described by an Eye-Witness.

FOURTEEN KNOWN DEAD.

Streets Filled With Terror-Stricken Women, Their Shrieks Mingling With the Moans of the Injured, and Lightning Reveals Wreckage.

Weakley, Ark., March 9.—Residents of Brinkley, which was devastated by a tornado Monday night, have arrived here.

Brinkley has over 3,000 inhabitants, and the refugees say that the entire business section was demolished by the storm and probably 50 per cent of the residences were razed to the ground or rendered uninhabitable.

Relief trains have arrived at the scene, but all wire communication is interrupted.

T. M. Kimmell, a railroad operator at Brinkley, one of the first to reach Weakley to summon aid for the devastated town, graphically describes the scenes immediately following the passing of the storm. Together with several companions Kimmell was in the Rock Island railway depot when the storm struck. As if it were a toy the substantial structure was twisted and broken, occupants being caught among the falling timbers and bruised, but otherwise unhurt. Extricating themselves after half an hour's effort they found the town in darkness and streets filled with terror-stricken women, their shrieks mingling with the moans of the injured. Intermittent flashes of lightning revealed wreckage everywhere, portions of buildings standing here and again only a tangled mass of debris.

As Kimmell and his companions tore their way through the streets they identified two of the dead and stumbled over others who were injured.

Huddled about the ruins of their homes families were standing in groups clinging together in terror, while here and there searchers were groping about in quest of missing members of their households.

As the party started to leave Brinkley intending to walk to Weakley, the nearest town, the added horror of fire appeared. When two miles from Brinkley Kimmell and party were forced to retrace their steps because of the gale. As they returned the fire had gained headway and fanned by a stiff wind was spreading, but prompt work of citizens suppressed the conflagration.

Boarding an engine Kimmell and his companions, J. M. Wojtanski, Richards, a lineman, and Conductor Gale, made a quick run to Weakley.

At 11 o'clock Tuesday the list of dead was placed at ten whites and four negroes, as follows:

Porter Foote.
Mrs. Belle Darden.
G. L. Sterrett, traveling shoe salesman.
Henry Stovall, Jr.
Mrs. Phillips.
Charles Frenze.
Miss Clara Rose.
Mr. Hood.
Mrs. Hood.
Unidentified man.
Four negroes.
Twenty people were injured.

A mass meeting of citizens was held at Brinkley and a telegram sent to Governor Donaghey at Little Rock, urging him to Brinkley to take charge of the situation. The governor replied he would leave for the scene at once.

Because of wire demoralization a Cotton Belt passenger train could not be located Monday night and a report was sent out that it had been blown from the tracks near Baumcum. The officials of railroad at Memphis wired that the train was safe from mishap.

WORSE AND WORSE.

Memphis Advances Put Death Lost at Brinkley at Over Thirty-Five.

Memphis, March 9.—A dispatch from Brinkley direct says fifteen white people, and more than twenty negroes were killed in Monday night's cyclone. Between fifty and one hundred people are more or less seriously injured. Relief workers have found bodies of many negroes under the wreckage.

HEAVIEST OF WINTER.

Snow Falls Over Sunflower State During Tuesday.

Topeka, Kan., March 9.—The heaviest snowstorm of the winter prevailed here Tuesday and was general over the state. Trains were from one to two hours late. The temperature was about freezing. The snow is wet and heavy, and in Topeka sufficiently heavy to tie up street car traffic.

A telegram from Des Moines stated that all Iowa awoke Tuesday morning to find one of the severest snowstorms of the season in progress. Snow began falling in the central portion of Iowa shortly after midnight and descended fast for several hours. The wind was not strong and the thermometer was above zero. Trains moved with difficulty and street cars intermittently.

Four Inch Snow at Enid.

Enid, Okla., March 9.—The heaviest snowfall in the memory of early settlers placed a four inch mantle over this vicinity Tuesday morning. While it checks cotton ground plowing, much having been in progress, the snow is of incalculable benefit to spring wheat. The downfall was accompanied by a terrific wind, reaching tornado velocity. There was a severe drop in the temperature.

Switch Signal Inventor Killed.
Massillon, O., March 9.—Thomas Buchanan, a switch signal inventor, was killed by a train.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Bryan Eagle:

Mr. and Mrs. John Lueck of Kurten, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday, March 7th. A special sermon was preached in the German Evangelist church and our Rev. Kasisky surpassed all former sermons in the splendid discourse of the hour. After the sermon about forty of the friends of the aged couple went to their home and enjoyed a splendid luncheon with them.

Mr. Lueck is 72 and Mrs. Lueck is 71 years of age. Both were born in Germany, but have been here in Brazos county for the past 18 years. We all wish they may celebrate their diamond wedding together with us.

PHILIP ENDLER.

Kurten, Texas.
The Eagle would like to add its congratulations and best wishes for the venerable and happy old couple. May their last days be pleasant and peaceful, and may life's setting sun make radiant their pathway as they come nearer and nearer to the great "Fatherland" above.

LEAVES COURTEOUS NOTE.

Texas Man Suicides as Mother Did, by Swallowing Strychnine.

New Orleans, March 9.—"Thanking you for your trouble I remain very truly yours, Charles A. Vandervoort, 2722 Postoffice Ave., Galveston, Texas."

This was the way Vandervoort brought to a close the note he wrote before committing suicide by taking strychnine in a lodging house here. Beyond stating that his mother had died in the same way, he signified no cause for his act.

Another Record Deal.

Tulsa, Okla., March 9.—Another record breaking oil land deal has been completed here. The Holland syndicate accumulated holdings in the Glenn Pool field amounting to $450,000. It took over the Reese Oil company and Kansas-Oklahoma Oil company.

The Assassins.

The Assassins were a religious and military order who came into existence during the eleventh century in Persia and who devoted themselves to the destruction after stealthy approach of all who opposed the Moslem faith in any way. The crusaders met with a branch of these desperate zealots in Syria, and many of the warriors of the cross were slain relentlessly and with mysterious suddenness in consequence. The Tartars exterminated the Persian Assassins in 1256, and fourteen years later the Syrian band of murderers was wiped out by an Egyptian ruler. But the name they bore remains as a designation of dread.

STOMACH AGONY.

Abolish the Cause, and Misery and Distress of Indigestion will Vanish.

Can indigestion be cured? Hundreds of thousands of people who suffer from belching of gas; biliousness; sour stomach; fullness, nausea, shortness of breath; bad taste in mouth; foul breath; nervousness and other distressing symptoms, are asking themselves that question daily.

And if these same doubting dyspeptics could only read the thousands of sincere letters from people who once suffered as badly as they do now, but who have been quickly and permanently cured by the use of Mi-o-na, the mighty dyspepsia remedy that cures by removing the cause, they would go to E. J. Jenkins this very day and get a large box of Mi-o-na tablets, and start themselves on the right road to health at once.

The price of Mi-o-na tablets is only 50 cents, and Jenkins guarantees them to cure indigestion or money back.

Thin or lean or scrawny people will find in Mi-o-na a maker of flesh and blood, because it causes the stomach to extract more nutritious matter from the food, which quickly enriches the blood.
